Burn fat, tone up, feel great

When running laps and counting calories isn't enough, naturally boost your calorie burning with the ZoVi Burn Dietary Supplement. While exercising regularly and eating a sensible diet are key to any weight management plan, our body needs the occasional boost to be able to achieve maximum results and performance.

The Problem Is Obesity Becoming A Leading Cause Of Death

We are overfed and undernourished. As a result, diseases and deaths related to obesity today are on the rise. Obesity associated diseases include: heart disease (#1), cancer (#2), stroke (#3), diabetes (#7). Obesity does not happen overnight, it is a gradual increase in weight over time. The problem is by the time someone realizes it, effective weight loss solutions are hard to find, very expensive, and are usually temporary.

The Competition Is Full Of Promise, Lacking In Results

How do you know when something is bad, good, or great? It's simple: LOGIC. It is known today everyone's body is different, the lifestyle they lead, hours they work, eating habits, genetics, and even sleeping patterns. Some gain weight faster than others, some can eat and eat and never seem to gain a pound, while others barely eat and still gain! While some try many different products and programs that seem to work, in reality they end up being disappointed.

Most weight loss products on the market today attempt to address the "symptom" rather than the source of the problem. So you can try them, and they might work temporarily, but you end up gaining the weight back with some extra. What you need is a system that starts at the source, and continues to work until you achieve your desired result.

The Solution Is What You Have Been Looking For

The methods which are used by the body to function remain the same no matter who the individual is. Fats are broken down the same way, stored the same way, and burned the same way. When the body is balanced, it operates at peak performance. However, the majority of foods we eat today lack proper nutrition, causing the body to slow down and fatigue easily. Eating "empty carbs", high calorie fast food meals, working long hours, and breathing polluted air are all a cause of an imbalance in the body.

At ZoVi we have formulated a unique 8-step proprietary blend to work with your lifestyle allowing you achieve your ideal body. Now you can lose weight, tone muscle, and feel great. ZoVi Burn focuses on enhancing weight management, energy production, and muscle definition through a natural blend of plant and root extracts.

Below is an example of the difference in size for 1 pound of muscle as it compares to 1 pound of fat. Since muscle is more dense, it requires more energy to function. This results in even faster burning of calories. The lean muscle blend in the ZoVi Burn is designed to support development of lean muscle.

Science behind nature

The synergistic ingredients of the ZoVi Burn allows for maximum results, especially when combined with the ZoVi DTX and ZoVi EMZ.

Thermogenic Fat-Burning (Breakdown of stored fat) and Lean Muscle Blend

The globally patented award-winning and highly effective ingredients in the ZoVi Burn are backed by clinical research in the weight loss industry today. The thermogenic blend consisting of Coleus forskohlii and Piperine stimulates the process of generating cellular energy and effectively promotes an increase in the metabolic rate of the body. Forskolol from Coleus forskohlii helps to gain lean body mass by increasing the Lipolysis rate (breakdown of fats). Piperine enhances nutrient absorption while stimulating the metabolic processes, and improves the efficacy of all the ingredients.

Appetite Suppressant Blend

The unique combination of ZoVi's special form of Garcinia cambogia fruit extract and Gymnema sylvestre leaves enhances the body's ability to suppress the appetite. Gymnema sylvestre significantly reduces the metabolic effects of sugar by preventing the intestines from absorbing the sugar molecules during the process of digestion. Changing the absorption of sugar into the system also changes the blood sugar levels. The key benefit of Garcinia cambogia is in its compound called hydroxycitric acid (HCA). Studies confirm that HCA is believed to block the conversion of sugars and starches into fats (inhibits fat production). Increase in fat metabolism by HCA stimulates glycogen storage in the liver supporting satiety and suppressing appetite. HCA also stimulates the metabolic rate of fat burning. ZoVi's HCA is combined with Garcinol to be more potent than HCA alone.

Thyroid Support Blend

Guggulsterones is a compound derived from the Commiphora mukul tree that has been used to naturally lower cholesterol levels and support thyroid function. To assess the effectiveness of Guggulsterones in facilitating weight loss, 22 obese patients were studied in a clinical trial. All of the patients had hypercholesterolemia, hypertension, heart disease and diabetes associated with their obesity. The study subjects were given Guggulsterones supplements for 15 days to one month. At the end of the study period, all of the patients had experienced significant weight loss, as well as reductions in serum cholesterol and serum lipid phosphate.

Anti-oxidant Energy Blend:

The Camellia sinensis catechins including EGCG (Green Tea Polyphenols) blended with Acetyl L-carnitine (derived from amino acids) contains anti-oxidants for energy production and increased metabolic functions. The key role for L-carnitine is to transport fatty acids to allow for oxidation of fats. Fatty acids are one of the key energy sources the body uses, and oxidation is the process by which they are broken down to generate energy for the body and enhance cellular energy in the brain, thus improving mental performance.

Glycemic Control and Blood Sugar Balancing

Chromium Picolinate supports Glycemic control and balanced lipid levels. This is an important part of maintaining a healthy body. Carbohydrates with high glycemic index ratings (GI) cause glucose and insulin levels to surge. This rapid fluctuation of insulin spikes may lead to weight gain and in most cases, diabetes.

Carb-Blocker

Calorie-rich meals are everywhere these days, and with those calories come large amounts of carbohydrates. Phaseolus vulgaris extract blocks the carbohydrates from being absorbed. In a 30 day clinical study subjects receiving Phaseolus vulgaris extract with a carbohydrate-rich, 2000- to 2200-calorie diet had significantly greater reduction of body weight, body mass index (BMI), fat mass, adipose tissue thickness, and waist/hip/ thigh circumferences while maintaining lean body mass compared to subjects receiving the placebo.
